I've spoke to pre trial any and all times they have reached out. There has never been a lack of communication for him to reach out to my family.

I appreciate it. The only reason I'm in this situation is from coercion from under the principles of duress, which cannot be construed to the act of free will. Violation of my rights.

Which no one is defending.

What are you being coerced on? How are you being coerced? By whom?

The entire case is coercion for me to be allegedly tried for crimes that never happened. That is Barratry.

Violating my constitutional rights.

Whether a crime happened is determined by the evidence. It's not "barratry" when a prosecutor gets judicial authorization to bring a criminal complaint/charges. And when were you thrown in jail ?? The only way that will happen in the near future is if you violate your bond.

There is no case. And they are in violation of their oath.

I was thrown into Livingston county without being read my Miranda rights. For no reason. That is coercion and duress to comply with their requests otherwise my freedoms would not be restored.

I was Kidnapped. And coerced.

You were arrested. A Miranda violation, if there was one, is only prejudicial in the case of a confession made - you did not "confess.". You were arrested - not kidnapped - on a judicially authorized arrest warrant. We need to get back to defending the case. These arguments will get us nowhere.

If we Defend the constitution, and Declaration of Independence it's a clear cut case.

But if not we're doing fraudulent corporate contract law. Which is illegal to do to men and women.

Being pressured to sign a contract under duress, also called coercion, means you're signing it against your will. In extreme cases, a party may threaten physical violence or even death unless you sign. Psychological pressure or lies about what could happen if you don't sign may also be considered duress. One example of duress might be telling someone, "If you don't accept these terms, you'll face financial ruin."

There are several ways one person may use duress to compel another person to sign a contract, including:

- Threat of violence.
- Threat against personal liberty.
- Extraordinary economic pressure.
- Unconscionability, or bad faith, in the bargaining process or terms.
- Misrepresentation, or fraud.

I never signed a contract for pre trial services.

Two the "verbal" agreement was under duress due to restrictions of my freedom. (After my kidnapping) I was not fully read the stipulations of this agreement. I would never agree to pre trial services, it's a violation of my constitutional rights.

You have resisted several of those legal requirements. It has to stop. These are individuals who have worked for the Federal Court for years! Do you really want to test those waters? These are the people that ensure you are following conditions of bond. You need to trust me on this, otherwise you will be in a far worse place - Jail. Do you think these are "fake" pretrial officers? You don't seem to trust me or Dana - and not following advice from your own team. do you want me to withdraw as your attorney? Or, as your attorney, I am warning you that you are playing with fire, and will likely lose your bond and go back into custody. I just can't make it any clearer. You are accomplishing nothing but to hurt yourself with this obsession about the oath of office. It's totally contrary to your interests, insulting to longtime court employees who wouldn't be allowed into the Federal building and into the Pretrial offices if they weren't pretrial officers. I'm done warning you. If you end up back in jail, it's your own fault. Sad but true.

Good Morning,

Please be advised that your client is non-compliant with his conditions of release. Mr. Brown has refused to sign documents needed by the Mental Health provider to proceed with treatment. In addition, he has refused to sign reporting instructions for USPO Hardy. The defendant has been given several warnings about his non-compliance with his conditions of release. Should the defendant continue to be non-compliant, PSA will ask for the defendant's removal from PSA supervision. PSA is respectfully asking that you speak with Mr. Brown regarding complying with the court's order. Thank you in advance for your assistance with this matter.

An act of congress does not become law unless follows every step. Article I /7 cl2. W a quorum present. Which it wasn't.

If it is subject to judicial notice then it is taken as true

I'm not filing it. The Act was passed and has been ruled constitutional. I'm not going to argue with you. If you want to file that, you need to find another attorney or represent yourself. Just see how your internet argument works with a new attorney. But right now I am your attorney and I won't file a motion that has no legal basis and hurt your case. It's not happening on my watch.

I'm done with this particular discussion. Have a good night and I will see you at 12:15 pm at our office on Friday.

Read this on your argument:

Mr. Cunningham argues that the text of H.R. 3190, or PL-80-772 enacting Title 18 was only passed by the Senate and not by the House of Representatives, and no quorum was in session. As noted by the Government, every court to address this argument has rejected it: Although the Fourth Circuit does not appear to have addressed the specific issue of the circumstances surrounding the passage of Public Law 80-772, several other federal courts have done so and have determined that Public Law 80-772 was properly enacted. See, e.g., United States v. Abdullah, 289 Fed. Appx. 541, 543 (3d Cir. 2008); United States v. Campbell, 221 Fed. Appx. 459, 461 (7th Cir. 2007); United States v. Risquet, 426 F.Supp.2d 310 (E.D.Pa. 2006); United States v. Williams, Crim. No. 03-20147-01-KHV, 2007 WL

Particularly the part where it says every single court that has addressed this argument has rejected it.

you're saying that the congressional records and the congressional archives are wrong and all of the judges issuing their opinions are correct. If that's true we put it in writing and we will go find out

I'm not filing it.

Todd it's been sent into the mail the judge should have it. I need an adjournment to discuss and understand all the possibilities of the directions I want to go.

We need to sit down and discuss everything. I cannot in good conscience make a decision to move forward until more matters are discussed. Especially after the research I've done

I do not fully understand all my options, and the pathways of each option. Leading through the courts. This is not proper due process.

You have to show up for your arraignment. If you don't your bond is likely gone. We can talk after the arraignment about the direction of the case. All this is is a hearing to make sure you know the charges & the penalties for each offense. And then we'll enter a not guilty plea for the time being. Don't hurt yourself.

How can I understand the charges against me. Unless I know that the law is valid. Which I told you I've researched and

So I think it's important we discuss prior to having an arraignment. Because the option I might have to take you won't do.

But you've been charged. That's all but that's a fact. You're not making any decision tomorrow, just an initial NOT GUILTY plea. Come in at 12:15 pm and we'll Show up or your bond will be pulled.

Who have I been charged by ?

I'm telling you. You're not giving me proper due process. And I need time to understand this fully.

You're not listening

The Federal District Court of DC
- READ the Indictment

You don't understand what due process is! It's what the court gives you - the opportunity after your charged to establish innocence.

I hope you sent your motion to our judge and to the right court: Federal District Court of the District of Columbia (ie DC). If you didn't, that's who you send it to if you wish to disregard my advice on that and act pro se. I can't stop you - you have that right. All I can do is continue to advise you that it's a bad idea. See you tomorrow at 12:15.

I need you to correct and let the courts at the next hearing I need the charges read to me. Thank you

I need you to inform the courts that you made a error. I do not waive the reading of the charges and the identification. Send that note to the court as a motion for correction and provide that you did so please.

Delivered

Tuesday 7:28 PM

You need to read the court order I just emailed to you. It sounds like you need to find another attorney asap.

You will need to be at our office by noon this Friday 6/24 to discuss how we will proceed.

The court interpreted your Motion as one to fire me as counsel. So we need to figure some things out on Friday.
